Student Life

Student life at MU is about more than studying and tests, it's also about having fun and growing as a person. After classes are over, the Student Activities Committee might transform the student center into a casino, or hold a hilarious womanless beauty pageant. Throughout the year, students see can a modern play in Reeves Auditorium, blow bubbles in a foam-filled play pit on The Quad, or try some international cuisine at an annual food festival. Whether they are cheering at pep rallies, sledding down snowy slopes on cafeteria trays, or volunteering to help people around the world, it's just another day in the Monarch student's busy life.

ORIENTATION 2008

Orientation 2008 was a huge success. On August 14th, over 400 incoming freshmen arrived at Methodist to begin their college experience. The first day of orientation included resident move-in, a family cook out on the quad, and mixers for the parents and new students. As the parents said their goodbyes, everyone prepared for the next day of orientation when the parents and students would be separated. After the students' breakfast with the orientation leaders, the parents and students spent the day in academic information sessions and later in the day, the students attended development sessions.

One of the highlights was the day spent at Camp Rockfish. The freshmen class was split into groups to participate in activities that included water sports, volleyball, basketball, ultimate frisbee, and various team building exercises. The next day's big event was the MU induction ceremony where each student received their handbook and pin as a symbol of their commitment to being an honorable student. "It was really fun and I got to bring my daddy to the induction ceremony," said freshman Angela Brown. As the end of orientation drew near, the new and returning students came together to start a new and exciting school year.

Global FACT

In Australian universities, like the University of Wales and the University of Sydney, the final day of orientation is usually celebrated with a large-scale event like a famous band playing at a entertainment venue on campus. Orientation is also known as "Fresher's Week" in the UK and Ireland and "O-Week" in New Zealand and Australia.

Live MUSIC

Dell Tower Live was hosted by SAC, SGA, and Greek Life. Blues, jazz, and Christian rock bands performed at the outdoor events. The music introduced students to the various musical cultures found in the United States.

Bell Tower Live

Global FACT

Jazz represents a merging and melding of many different people and their heritages. During the 1800s in America's south, music was an integral art of the life of plantation slaves of African descent. Plantation songs, spirituals, and field hollers were a part of everyday life -- to celebrate, the mourn, to entertain, to commemorate, to worship, and to accompany the drudgery of work. This music of the plantations blended with the European-American musical tradition to create the basis for blues, ragtime, and other musical forms from which jazz evolved.

Chapter 6

Global

FACT

A cappella (Latin for "from the chapel/choir") is vocal music or singing without the use of instruments. It was originally created to distinguish between Renaissance and Baroque style music. While services in the Temple in Jerusalem included musical instruments, traditional Jewish religious services since the destruction of the Temple services do not include musical instruments. In modern usage, a cappella often refers to an all-vocal performance of any style, including barbershop, doo wop, and modern pop/rock. Deaf boxing is a form of a cappella music popular in the hip-hop community, where rap is often performed a cappella also.

Bowling

Global

FACT

While it is uncertain where bowling evolved, it is one of the most widely played games in the world today. The game's original ball was made out of hard woods, such as Lignum or Black Iron, but in 1905 the first rubber ball was introduced. By 1914, rubber balls were used as the standard bowling ball for ten-pin bowling. In the early 1950's, television incorporated bowling, making it a sport as well as a leisure activity. Bowling is still enjoyed by over 95 million people in 90 countries worldwide.

Global FACT

Beauty pageants are competitions based on the physical beauty of its contestants. Choosing symbolic kings and queens for May Day and other festivities is an ancient custom in Europe in which beautiful young women symbolize their nation's virtues and other abstract ideas. Beauty contests for men are more likely to be body building contests. In the 1990's, contestants were judged on natural physical attributes and their physiques.

Womanless Beauty Pageant

And the winner is...? On September 10th, students and faculty alike gathered in the lobby of the Derris Student Center for the Womanless Beauty Pageant hosted by Comedian Adam Ace. Six males students transformed into their female alter-egos. With pride and masculinity set aside, these wo"men" strutted their stuff for the audience in between the hosts' skits. There was an introduction, a talent contest, and a formal wear competition. Ace had the crowd in a uproar after he performed his skit about school dances. He chose a male audience member to help him. He asks the male audience member to just stand still. Meanwhile, Ace is rolling down the top of his pants and pulling up his red thong to let it show. Some in the crowd yelled, gasped, turned or shook their heads, got up out their seats, or covered their eyes at the sight on stage. After the initial shock was over the, Ace continued his skit, and started talking about how guys don't do anything and the girls do all the work. Ace proceeds to turn his back to his "dance partner", put his hands on the ground, and put his legs on each side partner, and shook his "moneymaker". Everyone went wild, cries of hysteria and bewilderment were heard throughout the student center. "I have never seen anything like it, it was hysterical, something I will remember forever," said freshman Renisha Brown. Who took home the top prize? Travis "Donqueisha" Fulp. As the winner he received $50 and the admiration from his peers for his valiant effort and ultimate success in the Womanless Beauty Pageant.

FACT

As a major component of rodeo, bull riding is thought to have been born in 1869 when two groups of cowboys from neighboring ranches met in Deer Trail, Colorado. The meeting was arranged to settle a dispute over which group was best at general ranch tasks. From this simple competition, rodeo was born.

A pivotal moment for modern bull riding, and rodeo in general, came the Rodeo Cowboy Association (RCA) then the Professional Rodeo Cowboys Association (PRCA). Through this organization many hundreds of rodeos are held each year. Since that time, the popularity of all aspects of the rodeo has risen. In 1994 a separate organization was formed for bull riding alone: The Professional Bull Riders (PBR), which stages a large number of events including the annual PBR World Finals held at the Thomas and Mack Center in Las Vegas, Nevada.

India is a collectivist society that emphasizes family integrity, family loyalty, and family unity.

The Indian family is considered strong, stable, close, resilient, and enduring. Historically, the traditional, ideal and desired family in India is the joint family. A joint family includes kinsmen, and generally includes three to four living generations, including uncles, aunts, nieces, nephews, and grandparents living together in the same household. It is a group composed of a number of family units living in separate rooms of the same house.

The word charity comes from the Old French word "charite" which came from the Latin word "caritas". Originally the word meant preciousness or high value. Through Christian theology, the word came to mean unlimited kindness to all others. Charity can be monetary, material, or time spent directly with those who are recognized as needing charity or indirectly with a charity organization.

Dogsledding was invented in England by a resort owner to entertain tourists. Originally, guests raced their sleds on icy roads and snowy hillsides. Over time, steering mechanisms, half pipes, and rules were developed to turn the popular winter pastime into a true sport. The US Olympic Team has won 18 medals since 1924.

Ice Skating

Global

FACT

Studies suggest that the practice of ice skating was started over 4 000 years ago. Skaters were originally made with flattened bone strapped to the bottom of the foot. This made skaters glide across the ice instead of skate across. Skating actually started when steel blades were attached to the bottom of shoes. Skates now cut into the ice. Today there are many sports which heavily incorporate ice skating: speed skating, ice hockey, curling, and figure skating.

Student Media

Relax, we've got you covered.

Ever wonder who creates the school newspaper and yearbook? Well that's us! A misfit bunch of college students that rally together to pull off some awesome stuff! Between classes, homework, labs, and our weekly meeting we somehow find time to write articles, do layout for the newspaper, take pictures at all school events, and create a full yearbook. We may be the oddest group on campus but it's loads of crazy fun! Never doubt that a student with a camera and a note pad can't pull off something amazing!
